An Integrated IoT Software Platform Services

WISE-PaaS (Platform as a Service) stands between the domain-specific cloud and IoT devices, providing a modular operating environment for system integrators. Not only does it provide seamless sensor information transmission and remote management control, its open RESTful API/SDK protocols establish standard connection and communication between all the sub-systems. The Integrated IoT software and cloud platform plays a key role in the development of IoT applications, analysis of IoT big data, the continued optimization of work flow and future expandability of the system.
